

3G wristband: meaning

- In order to be granted access to university buildings 3–7 and 9 as well as to attend courses, you need a so-called “3G wristband”. The same applies if you would like to use the canteen in building 2.
- Building 1, the University Library, is accessible without a wristband.
- Individuals who cannot be vaccinated for medical reasons or who have received a vaccine that is unapproved in Germany need proof of a negative test result or of recovery.
- If you are found in a building (other than the University Library) or participate in a course without wearing a wristband, the person in charge of the building or member of the teaching staff is obliged to expel you from the building and to exclude you from the course.

3G certificate required at wristband pick-up point

- Wristbands are given out Monday to Friday from 7:30 to 17:00 on the ground floor of building 7.
- Even if you can access a building directly from the underground parking area, you are required to get a wristband in building 7 first.
- If possible, present your proof of vaccination/ recovery/ testing in digital form and make sure to bring proof of identity. We are obliged to carry out identity checks.
- Your proof of testing must not be older than 48 hours when you pick up the wristband.
- There are white 2G “permanent wristbands” for vaccinated and recovered individuals and “day wristbands” that are given out to both immunised individuals (upon request) and those who tested negative.
- The wristband may be concealed, e.g. by wearing it under clothing or covering it with a sweatband, when it is not being checked.
- You can wear a white 2G wristband until you need a new one.
- A “day wristband” is valid from the time it is handed out to the end of the same day as long as you wear it on your arm.
- Once removed, it loses its validity.
- Please support us in our 3G verification efforts and pick up your wristband in good time.

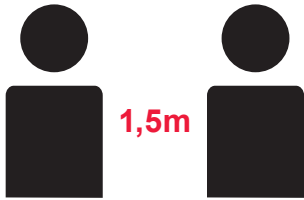

3G visual check at the beginning of a course

- Please present your wristband to the person responsible for your course at the beginning without being asked. The respective person will decide in what way.
- Please be considerate of each other and comply with these regulations. This is the only way to ensure a smooth start of the course.
- If a course takes place before or after the time wristbands are handed out, it is up to the lecturer to decide whether they will initially offer the course in digital format only or carry out the 3G checks themselves.
- If you are not wearing the appropriate wristband or no wristband at all and you do not follow the lecturer’s instructions to leave the course, they may call security. In this case, your identity will be verified and the university may take further action.

During courses

- Observe the commonly known rules regarding hygiene and, if possible, social distancing
- Check the rules of conduct for the individual rooms:

- Spread out around the room as much as possible.
- Make sure to ventilate rooms without ventilation systems at least every 30 minutes.
- As a general rule, face masks must be worn even when you have reached the seat or spot assigned to you. Teaching staff are exempt from this requirement if they keep their distance, just as students are when they contribute to a discussion. You can find further exceptions here:

- You may ask for disinfectant to clean tables yourself.

- Spend as little time as possible inside the buildings and go directly to your course rooms.
- Be considerate of each other.
- For questions or support, please talk to your lecturers or the common counselling services.
